EENWA AT SAND CREEK

Urban Energy. Modern Living. Effortless Style.

The Midtown Collection lives in the middle — between traditional single-family and true attached-product urban living. Five urban-style 2-Story and 3-Story detached single-family homes ranging from 1,304 to 2,130 square feet, with modern architectural exteriors and attached 2-car alley-load garages standard on every plan. The walkway does the work here: five feet of easement between homes delivers the visual density of a walkable neighborhood, while every unit remains a proper single-family lot with the independence a single-family title conveys. Editorial minimalism throughout — designed spaces that ask nothing of the household beyond how they'd like to live in them. Vertical living. Front-deck living. Multi-surface finishes designed to co-exist on the same street regardless of which combination each buyer picks. Two to four bedrooms flex across the collection, with entertaining floors that open to the way modern life actually gets lived.
