Midtown 220

The 220 is the collection's only two-story, and the plan for the household that wants the street without the third floor.

The ground level manages the daily entrance, featuring a rear-load two-car garage, a welcoming foyer, and a secondary bedroom suite with a full bath—ideal for guests or a quiet home office.

Upstairs, the main living space centers on an 18-foot living room that opens directly onto a private front deck. Just behind it sits an island kitchen complete with a pantry. The primary suite spans the rear elevation, offering a walk-in closet, a full bath, and an optional second balcony.

End units feature expanded footprints at both the garage and primary suite.

A clean urban silhouette—capped at two stories.
