Some homes ask you to imagine what you'll do with the space beneath them. Paradise settles that argument on the ground floor. A great room that opens through a covered patio, a kitchen anchored by a butler's pantry, a primary suite outfitted with a generous walk-in closet and dual vanities at the bath. Nearly 1,900 square feet of basement below, waiting to be finished into a rec room, a wet bar, a walkout patio — even a junior primary suite. Add the optional indoor-outdoor fireplace, and the great room opens onto the patio through a single shared hearth. The seasons behave themselves.
